

Hutchinson Builders are the proud construction team behind Happy Haus, a concept that merges smart, sustainable design and quality construction to create affordable and transportable homes.

Our state of the art facilities and commitment to quality construction will ensure your Happy Haus is built on time and to the highest standard.

We are Queensland's largest privately owned builder and have the capacity to produce large quantities of Happy Haus' from our custom built factory.

The smart Happy Haus design and our state of the art facilities makes the construction process very efficient, taking between two to six weeks to produce.

The homes have been designed and produced with sustainable materials and best practice structures which are easy to transport and install on your site within a matter of days.

We work with Happy Haus to please their clients and extend our building services to project management, installation and delivery to make your Happy Haus experience stress free.

It is a pleasure to work with the Happy Haus team and Australia's finest architects who set out to deliver quality and affordable homes, for people from all walks of life, across the nation.
